Ignacio Gonzales, of San Jose, was held by the grand jury today on charges of having tried to choke his wife to death.

Included in the evidence brought against Gonzales is a three-foot length of heavy rope with a noose at its end. With that Gonzales is alleged to have tried to strangle his wife.

Mrs. Gonzales filed complaint against her husband yesterday. At that time Gonzales, though he had fled the state and Justice Tarraghe had instituted a hasty search for him, at the justice's request, Under-sheriff Dick Lewis telephoned to El Paso in a hurry, the belief being that Gonzales had gone to that place. No trace of him was found there, and last night it turned out that he had remained in San Jose. He was arrested there by Justice Tarraghe and two deputies.

Todays Gonzales was lodged in the county jail in default of the bail imposed. The rope is filed away in the safe at the sheriff's office to be used at his trial.

Using Cottolene you can follow the deep fat method of frying. It's superior in every way to pan-frying—and you can afford it, because there is no waste. You simply strain the Cottolene and use it over and over again.

When fried in Cottolene, the food takes on a light, delicate brown, and absorbs very little of the fat. It is dainty and appetizing, and won't oversax the digestion.

FOUR THOUSAND YEAR TO SUPPORT NEW BUILDING

General Assembly Not Only
Provides Funds but Maintenance for Home for Ministers at Presbyterian Sanatorium.

IMPORTANT ADDITION TO GROWING INSTITUTION

Further details of the action of the General Assembly in Chicago, which referred the Presbyterian sanatorium at Albuquerque, were given this morning by Rev. Hugh A. Cooper, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, through whose efforts the sanatorium was located here and who has been most active in the upbuilding of the institution.

dispatch to the Herald Monday told of the appropriation of $10,000 by the General Assembly for the construction of a home for Presbyterian ministers and members of their family, as a part of the sanatorium. In addition to this, Mr. Cooper is advised, the General Assembly has made an appropriation of $4,000 a year for the maintenance of the new building, or $400 a year for each of the rooms which the building will contain.

The new building will be in every way a part of the institution and under exclusive management of the managers of the institution and members of their families afflicted with tuberculosis, but in the case with other departments of the institution, only curable cases will be accepted, thus being the sanatorium's general policy.

The contract for the new building, Mr. Cooper said, will be signed within a few days; and as has been the rule consistently followed by the managers of the institution in all its construction work, which now represents an investment of more than $100,000, the work will be given and material purchased exclusively from home dealers.

The erection of this building marks another important addition to the already large institution and another long step toward the goal set by its originators, which is to make it one of the largest and most effective institutions of its kind in existence.

The last meeting before vacation of the Thursday Morning Musical club will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Presbyterian church. It will be an organ recital by Miss Helen Kenworth, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Schwentker and Mr. John Falkenbergs.

BUILDING PLANS OF ELKS WILL BE DETERMINED

Albuquerque Lodge at Meeting Tonight Will Decide Upon Whether or Not to Remodel Theater Building.

The regular meeting of the Albuquerque Elks lodge tonight will be the most important meeting the lodge has held since the decision to start the construction of the Elks' theater building. At the meeting tonight the special committee on remodeling of the big building will present its final report and the lodge will decide whether or not to carry out the remodeling plans. The plans call for a complete re-construction of the interior of the building which will eliminate the theater and transform the larger part of the building into a modern and model club house for the Elks and for lodges round both for the Elks and for other lodges which may care to use them.

The building committee has concluded tentative arrangements with the Missouri State Life Insurance company, for a loan of $50,000 which will be available for financing the reconstruction plans in the event the lodge determines to carry them out.

In the event of approval by the lodge, which is considered probable, Albuquerque will not be without a theater. Joseph Barnett, having completed plans for a fine modern playhouse at the corner of Second street and Copper avenue.

SILVER CITY WILL HAVE BIG SUMMER NORMAL SCHOOL

Secretary Asplund, Back from Commencement, Says 180
Rooms Already Have Been Engaged for Prospective Students.

Rupert F. Asplund, secretary of the state board of education and in charge of the office of the state's educational consolidation, returned yesterday after a week's absence, having been engaged in the examination of the new spirit is due to the general support which the newspapers of the state have given and are giving to educational work. The constant attention given to the cause, the efforts among the county superintendents, and the hearty commendation which is ready on the part of the press, is lending an inspiration which has been lacking in the past. The public school system of New Mexico today is a mighty life and effective organization and its effectiveness is advancing with every day.

LIGHT TO SPEND A YEAR IN FLORIDA

Mr. Asplund says that Dr. C. M. Light, who has remained as president of the Silver City Normal school, effective at the end of the present summer term, will spend a year in Florida, resting after many years of unbroken effort in building up the Silver City school when he will return to New Mexico to make his home.

STORES WON'T CLOSE ON DECORATION DAY

The local stores will not be closed on Saturday the Merchants' association has decided to keep the places of business open according to the best kind of work.

"Silver City," said Mr. Asplund, "is preparing this morning to have a very successful summer and is going to have an even more successful summer normal school. More than 180 rooms already have been reserved by prospective students and President C. M. Light told me before he expected the attendance to exceed last year's surprising enrollment, which went over 250. Silver City is an ideal location for a summer school and the school is prepared to do the best kind of work."

"Silver City," said Mr. Asplund, "is preparing to night educational consolidation in New Mexico and will have plenty of strong reasons for opposing any measure looking to the present or future consolidation of the normal schools in the state.

At last night's meeting the location of the carnival company was discussed at length, the final determination of the business men present being to leave the matter to the fair commissioners, which the fair commission hopes to be able to make on the state fair grounds on the second, immediately following this year's fair.

The general school work of the state is progressing rapidly and with great promise for the future. We have made marked advances during the past year. High school education has been made available practically in every county through the carrying of county high school elections or otherwise, many new district school houses have been built, there is a more enthusiastic spirit of co-operation between teachers and the county and state school authorities than we have ever had before. The most marked improvement we have noted is in the work of the county superintendents. All of the old time indifference which at one time characterized them often generally thru lack of interest in the community has disappeared. The most marked improvement is in the work of the county superintendents for the most part are practical school men and women, deeply interested in their work and enthusiastic for its success, and even those who are not trained educators, are working hard and effectively for better county schools. I believe much of the success of the new school system is due to the interest of the parents in the work of the schools.
